husband, Justin, returned to Savannah where Hise Sullivan went to work with the Savannah Development and Renewal Authority. Three years after that, Hise Sullivan "retired" to start a family, which now includes Leila Mary, age 7, and twins Fiona Jean and Verity Jane, 4 1/2. Now a consultant, she owns a professional organizing business and is currently working on contracts for the Georgia Historical Society and Historic Savannah Foundation, among others.

Hise Sullivan is also the founder and managing director of two choirs, the Savannah Children's Choir as well as Ensemble Con Spirito, a women's sacred music ensemble. Downtown Brunswick, however, remains one of her shining achievements.

Hise Sullivan: "I am always so proud to come to Brunswick, to see the beautiful streets downtown. 'My' oaks and crepe myrtles have grown and flourished, the tree grates are lovely, and now there's the activity and quality of business I always dreamed of then. Seeing Old City Hall restored is a special thrill for me every time I walk by. My office at the time was as yet unrestored, and my roommates were a large family of enormous wharf rats."

The advertisement features a woman with blonde hair, smiling, wearing a black sequined dress. The background is dark with large, light-colored circles. The text "Lady in White" is written in a cursive font, with "Bridal & Social Occasion" below it. The text "THE Little Black DRESS" is prominently displayed in large, bold, white letters. At the bottom, the address "1521 Newcastle Street Historic Downtown Brunswick" and the website "www.ladyinwhitebridal.com" are listed.
