When you were a child, what did you want to be when you grew up? I wanted to be a racecar driver.

What inspires you? The spirit and memories of my late father, P. Rodney Vollenweider.

What is your favorite quote? "When it's all said and done, a helluva lot more is gonna get said than done."

What do you dream about? All of my close family and friends living in the same community but I it will probably never happen.

What would your fight song be? "Migration" by Jimmy Buffett with a close second being "Remember the Name" by Fort Minor.

If you could live in any book, which would you choose? "Tales from Margaritaville" by Jimmy Buffett

What do you regret? I regret the fact that I have a tendency to hold back and not open up to people that want the best for me.

What personality trait do you most admire? I admire the ability to manage time well because I am not a good time manager.

What would you like for the world to know about you? I would like the world to know that there is more to who I am than just being talkative and outgoing. I am very thoughtful, reflective, and I genuinely care about people.

DAVID YARBOROUGH

Age: 39

Hometown: grew up in Brunswick

Family: wife, Amber; sons, Eli (14) and Jonathan (12) and daughter, Hannah (8)

Occupation: pastor of St. Simons Community Church

Civic Activities: Coaching little league teams through Glynn County Recreation Department; weekly column for The Brunswick News (since 1999); helping to guide our wonderful team of people at St. Simons Community Church into community involvement and support including Care Net Pregnancy Center, Living Well Ministries, The Gathering Place, Manna House, Habitat for Humanity, Faith Works and Sparrows Nest, and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

When you were a child, what did you want to be when you grew up? A professional football player. I loved Roger Staubach and Tony Dorsett of the Dallas Cowboys. I was willing to settle for being a pro baseball player as a second choice.

If you could retire and start a second career, what would you do? I'd be a professional football player for the Dallas Cowboys. Okay, maybe an author instead.

What inspires you? People of great character and courage, historical places that echo the sacrifices of people from the past.

What is your favorite quote? "There is no growth in a comfort zone and no comfort in a growth zone."

What do you dream about? When I am not dreaming about being a professional football player, I tend to dream about making a difference in people's lives for the sake of eternity. How can I and our team at SSCC truly make Jesus Christ more real to people? How can we help people truly fall in love with Jesus and lead them into a life changing relationship with Him?

What do you put off? Way too many things, but specifically administrative tasks, yard work and washing the dog.

What would your fight song be? Journey was an awesome '80s band, so I would say "Don't Stop Believing" by Journey.

If you could live in any book, which would you choose? I would love to have been one of the children in "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe" by C.S. Lewis. How cool would it be to walk with Aslan the Lion?

What do you regret? Letting fear hold me back at times from truly being the leader that I need to be.

What would you like the world to know about you? I serve a great God, live with an amazing wife, and I love the opportunity I have to share God's love and God's Word with the people of the Golden Isles Community.
