

Pallets accented with Kilim pillows and inspired by a Marrakech hotel provide seating in an upstairs outdoor pavilion.

Dana adds, “I like the pavilion because you feel like you’re in the trees. We copied the pallets from a hotel in Marrakech. We were also inspired by Morocco’s Riads or mansions that serve as intimate hotels with the main structure centered on a patio or courtyard.” The pallets are accented with dozens of kilim pillows purchased from the Anadol Rug Company in Atlanta.

With the natural beauty surrounding the house along with unusual design elements of more exotic locales, it is easy to feel like one is visiting a foreign land without ever leaving the area. ■

WITH THE NATURAL BEAUTY SURROUNDING THE HOUSE
ALONG WITH UNUSUAL DESIGN ELEMENTS OF MORE EXOTIC LOCALES,
IT IS EASY TO FEEL LIKE ONE IS VISITING A FOREIGN LAND
WITHOUT EVER LEAVING ST. SIMONS ISLAND.

The doors leading to the garage and Ewell’s office are framed with tiles and the Arabic inscription above the doors reads, “God is beauty and is beautiful.”